Everything you need to know about uni

At UNE you get more than a degree

You get a complete university experience: a vibrant, supportive community; small classes; and access to your expert lecturers.

Affordable accommodation options put you right at the heart of the action, giving you maximum independence and access to academic, sporting and social facilities.

All of this means that you get every opportunity to reach your full potential and get the very best start (plus some great memories along the way).

UNE is the only Australian public university awarded the maximum 5 stars for Overall Experience 13 years in a row.*

About UNE

Established in the 1920s by the University of Sydney, the University of New England is the oldest university in Australia outside of a capital city.

Set on a spectacular 74 hectares and featuring the original homestead at the heart of the campus, UNE combines heritage with modern academic, sporting, recreational and accommodation facilities.

Armidale region

UNE is located in Armidale, in the heart of the beautiful New England region, halfway between Sydney and Brisbane on the New England Highway. New England is renowned as a unique cultural centre with stunning scenery and a cosmopolitan atmosphere.

Campus accommodation

UNE's residential accommodation consists of seven colleges including six traditional college residences, a village of self-contained units and 211 modern studio apartments. Each college has its own distinct character and all of them welcome students into friendly, inclusive and supportive communities. UNE's residential college system includes:

- Austin College
- Duval College
- Earle Page College
- Mary White College
- Robb College
- St Albert's College
- Wright College and Village

Getting someone to help pay for your degree is easier than you think

Unlike the government help that you have to repay when you start earning, a UNE Scholarship never has to be repaid. UNE Scholarships are open for all to apply – and it doesn't cost you anything. Not all scholarships are about how well you did at school, there are UNE Scholarships that recognise students who:

- come from rural areas
- excel at sport
- study specific degrees
- plan to live in a UNE college
- are in disadvantaged groups
- have high academic achievement

There are numerous scholarships on offer each year and most scholarship applications close at the end of September.

What is a degree?

A degree is the qualification you get when you finish your course of study. You have to complete a range of units (subjects) within a course to get the degree. Most single degrees can be completed in three years (full time). Some degrees require four years' study and most double degrees are five years. Below is a breakdown of what is required to get your degree.

The parts that make up your degree

Each subject that you take is called a 'unit'. Some will be compulsory for your degree – these are called 'core units'. Others you can choose from a list of options – these are called 'electives'.

Some degrees will have 'majors' (a 'major' is an area of specialisation that you have an interest in – the 'major' is listed on your degree when you graduate). To graduate with a major, you will need to complete specific subjects.

Foundation Units

Some degrees at UNE have 'assumed knowledge' or 'recommended study' requirements for Mathematics, Chemistry or Physics, which means that you are recommended to have completed Year 12 HSC (or equivalent) units in the required subjects. If you don't meet these recommendations or don't feel confident with your knowledge, UNE offers a range of Foundation Units that have been specifically designed for people who either didn't study these subjects for the HSC or have had little experience in these areas. They provide the necessary preparation for you to start first year studies in each subject area, and can also help you in being admitted to a science-based degree.

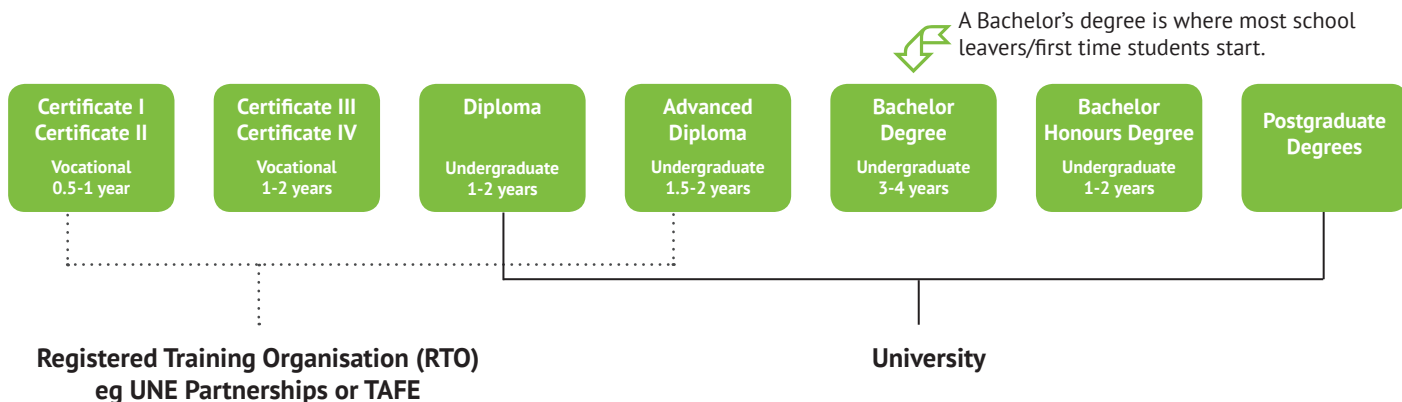

i For more information visit: une.edu.au/foundation

Also see Science Pathways on page 11.

What should you study?

Think about everything you like doing. Students always do better and enjoy their time at UNE more when they are studying something that is of interest to them. Start by browsing the different study areas in this brochure to get a general feel for what you will learn and what you can do with those degrees.

For more information see pages 12-28 or visit: une.edu.au/courses

Cost to study at UNE

Cost of a Degree

Most undergraduate courses studied by school leavers at UNE have Commonwealth Supported Places (CSP) available. This means that the government makes a contribution to part of the cost of your degree, and you pay the difference between this contribution and the total cost of the degree.

Provided you are an eligible domestic student and meet the residency requirements you will be offered a Commonwealth Supported Place (CSP).

i For more information visit: studyassist.gov.au

There are seven different 'bands' of costs, which are divided by discipline areas. These are known as 'Student Contribution Bands', (see table on opposite page) and show the range of fees you will be charged (the difference between what the government contributes and the total cost of the fees).

The fees a student pays are calculated based on the units selected within a course. This is due to the different bands and study loads a student undertakes each Trimester. For example, if you study a Bachelor of Arts, you might choose units in humanities, commerce and statistics. These units are all in different contribution bands and have different costs.

Payment Options*

As an Australian citizen, permanent humanitarian visa holder or New Zealand Special Category visa holder, you can enrol in a CSP, and get a HECS-HELP loan. You can choose to defer the entire cost of your degree or pay upfront.

As an Australian permanent resident or New Zealand citizen you can still enrol in a CSP, however you need to pay your fees upfront.

HECS-HELP*

HECS-HELP is a loan to help eligible students studying in a CSP to pay their course fees. The HECS-HELP loan allows you to defer your course fees until you start earning over the minimum income threshold. The minimum threshold for the 2018-2019 income year is $51,957.

For more information visit studyassist.gov.au.

* Please note the payment options and HECS-HELP information are correct at the time of printing.

For updates please visit studyassist.gov.au

Student Amenities Fee

The Student Services and Amenities Fee (SSAF) is charged to students for services and amenities of a non-academic nature, such as sporting and recreational activities, employment and career advice, child care, financial advice and food services.

Eligible students have the option of deferring student services and amenities fees through the SA-HELP scheme.

i For more information visit: studyassist.gov.au or une.edu.au/fees

Student Amenities Fees (2019)

From January 1, 2019 the Student Services and Amenities fee is applied to all on campus and online coursework students at the rate of $37.75 per 6 credit points (a typical unit at UNE is 6 credit points) to the annual full time maximum of $302. The fee will be invoiced per study period and payable by the census date.

Additional Costs

Apart from your course costs you will need to consider other costs—such as text books, computer and printing equipment, transport costs (including parking), cost of living (food, accommodation and services), sport and recreation and social activities.

UNE provides a range of useful support options to assist you with the financial side of student life. Areas of assistance include the provision of Student Loans, seeking part-time employment and strategies for saving money. Living on campus at UNE is a great way to help manage your costs.

Library Services

The University Library provides access to a range of information in electronic form and a large collection of books, journals and audiovisual material in the Dixon Library (the main campus library) and the Law Library. Dixon Library also hosts the Learning Commons where you will find computers, media rooms, group study rooms and rooms for problem-based learning. Many of the resources found within the libraries are available online so you can do your own research at home or on campus.

Oorala Aboriginal Centre

Culture - Community - Partnership

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students are guided by a small community of experts throughout their study. This means support right from the start—with flexible entry and study preparation—and throughout your degree, with your subjects and career pathways. At Oorala we put the well-being and success of our students and their communities first.

i For more information visit: une.edu.au/oorala

The Next Step

At UNE our aim is to help you become 'career ready'. UNE graduates stand out because they have developed a range of skills that are highly sought after by employers.

These are not only the result of academic achievement. Skills are also developed through:

- opportunities for leadership and teamwork through community participation
- parliamentary internships
- international exchange programs as credit towards your UNE degree
- personal and academic support programs
- links and partnerships with industry, research organisations and training bodies.

Study Online

How does online study work?

Instead of turning up to a lecture on campus at a designated time, the course content is provided online for you to access when it suits you each week. It might be a podcast (recorded lecture), a set of readings, questions posed in a discussion board, an online quiz or a video. Your lecturer will guide you through the unit with a weekly plan of study, as well as checking in on the discussion boards or forums. You can communicate with teaching staff and other students.

To make sure your learning can take place when it suits you, UNE provides online facilities which allow you to send questions, submit assignments, order library books, check your results and access other resources, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. UNE also has exam centres in all major cities and many regional areas across Australia, so you don't have to travel far to sit your exams.

Intensive Schools

Some online units have intensive schools (sometimes known as residential schools). They enable students to engage in practical exercises and classes that are designed to achieve specific learning outcomes. Intensive schools are a valuable and enjoyable experience that enrich the learning process and help build your networks.

i See une.edu.au/courses to find out which units have intensive schools.

Online community

We also believe that a vital part of online study is your engagement with the learning community. Communication with your classmates, teaching staff and university support staff will enhance your study experience and ensure that your skills extend beyond just the subject matter.

How to apply*

How you apply to study at UNE will depend on how you want to study with us, either online or on campus.

How to Apply for Early Entry at UNE

UNE Early Entry is open to all Year 12 applicants, whether or not you're expecting to receive an ATAR or OP score. Early Entry relies on your school's assessment of your attributes and abilities: your ability to work and learn independently, and your overall potential for academic success.

Check out the range of on-campus and online courses available through Early Entry and select three courses you would like to study from the Early Entry course list.

Entry Pathways

Pathways to study

If you're not sure whether you'll get the marks for entry into university, UNE offers a range of pathways to help get you on your way including Early Entry, the Pathways Enabling Course, Science Pathways, TRACKS Tertiary Preparation Program and the ATAR Adjustment Scheme.

Pathways Enabling Course

The Pathways Enabling Course is a free program of study for students without the educational background for admission to an undergraduate degree at UNE.

You'll receive mentoring and additional tutorial support through two foundation units, which provide you with the skills and confidence required for successful undergraduate study. You then choose from a range of units that are part of the degree you want to enrol in later. So when you start your degree, you'll already be two units ahead!

i For more information visit: une.edu.au/enabling

Science Pathways

Want to study Science at UNE but don't have the background? Follow Science Pathways.

The Science Pathways program, in the Bachelor of Scientific Studies, is designed for students who may have little or no scientific background. It aims to build the skills and knowledge that will allow students to be accepted into other, more specialised Science-based degrees. The pathways program includes foundation units in basic Sciences to get you up to speed. In addition, the program lets you choose units from a range of specific study pathways. On completion of the Science Pathways program you can transfer into the Science degree of your choice, with credit for units already completed.

i For more information see page 27 or visit: une.edu.au/science-pathways

TRACKS Tertiary Preparation Program

TRACKS is a tertiary preparation course for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students who would like to develop academic skills and knowledge to undertake undergraduate studies at UNE. You will be part of a community of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students who share your goals and interests. During the course you will build confidence and academic skills through flexible learning and also take an undergraduate unit in your area of interest that may count towards your UNE degree. On successful completion of the TRACKS course you will be eligible to apply for UNE undergraduate study.

i For more information visit: une.edu.au/oorala

ATAR Adjustment Scheme

Want to know how to add 5 points to your HSC mark?

UNE's ATAR Adjustment Scheme adds 5 points to your ATAR, OP (or equivalent) and is for applicants from regional, rural and remote locations Australia-wide.

When a student applies to their Tertiary Admission Centre, or directly to UNE for a UNE course, the bonus points will be automatically assigned according to their residential postcode. There is no separate application required.

^ PERSONAL STATEMENT REQUIREMENTS

From 2018, the Australian Government has introduced additional standards for admission to Initial Teacher Education (ITE) degrees. In addition to academic capability, applicants will also need to submit a 'Personal Statement' outlining their non-academic abilities. These non-academic capabilities include an applicant's interest in teaching children and/or young people and their motivations for becoming a teacher along with their involvement in personal learning and/or leadership activities (ie work experience, community work or volunteering, extra-curricular projects etc). For more information visit une.edu.au/teachingreqs

BAND 5 REQUIREMENTS

In addition to standard entry requirements (ATAR or equivalent), entrants to these accredited undergraduate teaching degree will need ONE of the following:

- a minimum of three 'Band 5' HSC results, including one in English, or
- to complete bridging units equivalent to a minimum of three 'Band 5' HSC results, including English, as approved by NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA) before entry, or
- to complete at least a full year of discipline studies in another higher education award (ie Bachelor of Arts, Diploma in Science or Bachelor of Educational Studies), or
- to enter via an alternative pathway, as advised by UNE and approved by NESA.

UNE Early Entry

Get into uni ahead of the pack

UNE Early Entry is open to all Year 12 applicants, whether or not you're expecting to receive an ATAR or OP score. Early Entry relies on your school's assessment of your attributes and abilities: your ability to work and learn independently, and your overall potential for academic success.

Apply directly to UNE online.

- No application fees.
- Know in November that you have a place at UNE to relieve the pressure of waiting for results.
- Get into uni with or without an ATAR or OP score.
- No UAC/QTAC applications required.
- Applying through UNE Early Entry does not prevent you from making another application through a Tertiary Admissions Centre so it's a great way to increase your chances of getting into the course you want.

Apply now to secure your place for 2019
